

FOCLIS

Fellowship Of Christian Librarians & Information Specialists

FOCLIS - Annual ALA Breakfast Meeting

“Public/Private Distinctions in Protecting Religious Liberty”

Holly Hollman is general counsel for the Baptist Joint Commission on Religious Liberty (www.BJConline.org). She currently is serving as its interim executive director. She writes a regular column for the BJC's monthly publication, Report from the Capital. In addition, she consults with national print media on matters relating to church-state relations and has appeared in leading publications including The Washington Post, USA Today, The Christian Science Monitor and Christian Century. Hollman has also appeared on National Public Radio, CNN, C-SPAN, Fox News Channel, NBC Nightly News and PBS "Religion & Ethics Newsweekly. She will talk about the work of the BJC and the current status of church-state issues.

Monday, June 28, 2010

Time: 7:30 AM — 9:30 AM

Place: DC Convention Center
Room 304

$15 at the door (includes continental breakfast)

All ALA members are welcome & invited to attend.

FOCLIS is a nondenominational organization of people involved in the library and information profession who are committed to the Christian faith and seek to reflect its principals in their personal and professional life. For more information, please visit our official website: www.foclis.org